GIVEN under my Hand, this First Day of June, in the Year of our Lord 1767.

ANDREW ELLIOT, his Majesty's R. General.

The Cafe of VINCENT WOOD, as delivered to his Majesty's Minister at the Court of France, August 30, 1766.

ON Monday, the 18th of August, between the Hours of Eleven and Twelve at Midnight, I was awakened from my Sleep at my Lodgings in the Rue d'Enfer, by a Commissary and five or six of his Attendants, who demanded my Name, and how long I had been in Paris, Being greatly surprized at so unexpected a Visit, and deficient in the French Language, I sent for Mr. Lemoine to interpret for me, who, by my Desire, informed the Commissary, that my Name was Vincent Wood, that I was a Surgeon upon the Half-pay in the Royal Regiment of Artillery; that with Leave of Absence from Lord Granby, Master-General of the Ordnance, I came to France in February last, from which Time, 'till the 27th of July, I had boarded with Mr. Grefier, between Boulogne and Calais; that I came to Paris on the 4th of this Month in Company with Mrs. Lemoine, Wife of the said Mr. Lemoine, and other Persons unknown to me, in the Calais Coach; ever since which I had lodged where he then found me. To this the Commissary replied, that he knew much better, that I had been six Weeks in Paris, and had lodged at the Hotel du St. Esprit: To convince him of his Mistake I sent for Mrs. Lemoine, who, relative to my Arrival in this Capital, confirmed, Word for Word, all I had told him; and, as a further Proof, he might find the same confirmed, by an Enquiry at the Bureau, where the Calais Coach puts up. He then asked me, if I had any Acquaintance in Paris, and what was my Business; I told him, my Acquaintance was but few; that I came to improve myself in the French Language, but that there were in Paris three Gentlemen, just arrived from England, who lodged at the Hotel de York, one of whom had been for many Years my particular Acquaintance. He then asked, if I had a Father and Mother living, and the Place of their Residence; to all which I gave him full and direct Answers; but not contented, he demanded the Key of my Trunk, rifled it from Top to Bottom, took from me my Commission, a Note of Hand upon a Gentleman in London for Ninety-two Pounds Sterling, and all my Letters directed for me at the Place of my Residence both in England and in France, amounting to 40 or 50 in Number, with many other

Articles, of which I have no Account. From these Letters, &c. he must be convinced I was the Person that I represented myself to be, yet, without farther Ceremony, by his Order, I was forcibly hurried into a Coach, and carried to a most execrable Prison; a Prison, from its Filth and Closeness, sufficient to produce a Pestilence! There I was delivered to the Custody of a merciless Turnkey, who first stripped me of my Stock, Knees, and Shoe Buckles, Garters, Handkerchiefs, &c. and afterwards demanded, if I had any English Guineas; finding I had not, he conducted me into a Room loaded with Vermin, and destitute of a Sufficiency of Air for Respiration. In this Place, from the horrid Stench arising from the Filth and Nastiness of some unhappy Wretches then confined in it, I was seized in a few Hours with a Fever and violent putrid Flux: At Nine the next Morning, the Turnkey came again, and asked if I wanted for any Thing! I told him nothing but Pen, Ink, and Paper, that I might write to the English Minister to procure Justice; to which he replied, I should have neither, nor any Opportunity of being known or seen by any of my Friends. In this miserable Situation I was detained from Monday Midnight till near Three in the Afternoon on the Friday following, when, from the noisome Air of the Place, and the Illness I had undergone, I had repeated Convulsive Fits, which might have proved mortal, had I not providentially been taken into another Room to be again examined by the Commissary, who then, as before, asked me if I had Father and Mother living, if I had never gone by any other Name, and particularly that of Morgan; I assured him that I had not, and that my Name was (as I had before informed him) Vincent Wood, of which my Papers, &c. then in his Custody, were a sufficient Testimony; whereupon he again delivered me the Note of Hand, and said I was then at Liberty to see my Friends, but must still remain a Prisoner, which, till the Monday following, about Six in the Evening, I accordingly did, when the Turnkey came and informed me, upon Payment of my Expenses, I might leave the Prison when I pleased, and upon which I was immediately released. On the Wednesday following I went to the Commissary, and, with all due Respect to his Office, begged to know for what it was I had been thus imprisoned, and to desire a Restoration of my Papers, &c. when, instead of giving me the least Satisfaction in either respect, he told me he had nothing more to say to me, and, if I was dissatisfied therewith I must go to Campaigne and complain to Louis Quinze. From that Time 'till the 9th of Nov. tho' I had made repeated Applications for the Recovery of my Papers, &c. and they were sensible of their Error in imprisoning me, yet it was with the utmost Difficulty that I was then able to procure them three Months after they were seized.

L O N D O N,

April 16. Since last Thursday several ships have arrived in the river with wheat from abroad, their cargoes consisting of 11,343 quarters. Since the 23d of March, 44,419 quarters of foreign wheat have been brought into the river; a great deal of which has been bought up for the country market.

April 17. We are informed that the national debt, as it stood on the commencement of the present year, amounts to 130,852,412l. 19s. 1d. forthing, and the annual interest or other charges attending the same, is 4,707,223l. 7s. 4d.

Yesterday morning E.—D.—, Esq; of Piccadilly, was found with his throat cut on the floor of his own apartment: he had not been long dead, it is conjectured, before he was discovered in that dreadful situation: he had a pen-knife in one hand, and in the other a paper containing these words: "When life becomes a torment, it is as natural to shake it off as to fly from misery—yet my life had never been miserable, but for a faithless friend and perjured mistress."

We hear that the whole Military establishment of the British colonies in North-America is to consist of thirteen thousand effective men, exclusive of their militia.

A few days since an action was entered against a person in Warwick-street, by a gentleman, for having seduced his son to the errors of the Romish church, and afterwards endeavouring to send him abroad. He has since absconded.

CHARLESTOWN, (S. Carolina) May 15.

On Saturday last rice rose from 50s. to 55s. the 100lb. at which price several large quantities have been sold.

The same day arrived here, the ship King of Prussia, Leonard Hodgson, master, from Gibraltar, who tells us that about five days before he sailed, advices having been received that the Spanish galleons were arrived at Cadiz, the Æolus, and another British frigate, immediately sail'd from Gibraltar for the said port, in order, it was said, to receive, or demand, the Manilla ransom, which the court of Spain had put off paying till the arrival of her treasure from the new world.—Capt. Hodgson says, that about a fortnight before he sailed, an English ship, which had been up the Levant with tobacco, was ordered to proceed for, and put on shore the said cargo at Gibraltar, but when she arrived there, General Irwin, unwilling to give any umbrage to the Spaniards, did not permit the tobacco to be landed, and the ship put out to Sea again, but was soon followed by two xebecs sent out by the Spanish general; the capt. of the ship seeing an English frigate got under his protection, on which the xebecs then along side of him, tho't proper to sheer off.—Great quantities of grain were arrived in all the ports of the Mediterranean, which had reduced the prices to almost nothing, and it was thought immense sums would be lost by the adventures of that branch.

A letter from London, of February 17th, says, "His Majesty, whose attention to learning the Sciences, ever since the commencement of his auspicious reign, has been conspicuous to the whole world, is now making up the most valuable library in Europe, or perhaps in the world; having agents in all parts to collect books for this truly royal purpose, and some of the most learned men in Great-Britain are now employed in putting them in the proper order."

B O S T O N, June 8.

Copy of a Letter from a Gentleman of undoubted Veracity in London, to his Friend in Bolton, dated April 11th 1767.

I AM glad to find by your Letter of the 31st of December, that your General Court has at length had the grace to make a just compensation to the sufferers in the late riots. They did not do it too soon; for about the time of the arrival of the news, a disposition was rising here to make a strict enquiry why it was so long delayed.

What you mention of your divisions has proved a great misfortune for both countries; for I can't but consider their interest as the same, and think that no one can injure the one without hurting the other. We are now beginning to see our error, and are uniting here in one opinion with regard to the supporting the honour of the crown, and the authority of the legislature. The open disobedience of the assembly of New-York to the act for quartering the soldiers, has raised a spirit in Parliament which I have not seen before. All now agree that government would be no more, if it suffered any of its subjects to dispute its supreme authority. The Lord Chancellor some time ago said that that Colony was in a state of delinquency: & every member of the administration in both houses hath in the strongest terms declared that they would go as far as any men in maintenance of the King's rights. The first Lord of the Treasury and the Secretary of State intimated in the House of Lords last week, that Lord Chatham with the assistance of the Lord Chancellor and Lord President, &c. is preparing a bill for this purpose, and a plan for carrying it into execution. The ready obedience of Pennsylvania was mentioned to their honour, and a just distinction seems intended to be made between the different provinces according to their different behaviour. I am sorry to find that your a—y has been brought to imitate those of New York. Those men surely must have very little regard to the interest of the province, who have been using every art to mislead an honest well meaning people for their own factious purposes.

Not that you have any ground of fear from the measures now taking. All passion, prejudice and resentment have been most fully disclaimed, and the persons who are to form and execute the plan are the very men whom your people have been taught to think your best friends, and are raising statues to. Far from injustice therefore you have nothing to expect, but what shall be dictated by sentiments of the utmost consideration and good will. I know that Mr. Grenville, whose estimation and authority in parliament is rising every day, has not the least resentment against the colonies, and am persuaded that the plan would be formed by him with full as much moderation. But the strong prejudices which are now prevailing in your country in favor of Lord Chatham make it more desirable that this business should be entered on by him and Lord Camden than by any one else.

I have attended the House of Lords the three days on which the American affairs have been mentioned there. Much was said Yesterday about your tacking an act of indemnity to that for the Compensation. Acts of grace can originate only in the crown.* Lord Shelburne was amazed that his Letter could have given the least countenance to the passing of it: But Lord Mansfield excused the governor. The council will certainly declare that part void; but that need give no alarm, because something equivalent will be done here. The intended bill is to begin in the House of Commons. The attention of that house has for some time been engaged in the East-India business. But they have resolved, on the 30th instant, immediately after the recess, to take the American papers into consideration.

Lord Mansfield yesterday in the House of Lords made one of the finest speeches I ever heard, upon the wickedness and the folly of your incendiaries; who against the conviction of their own minds are endeavouring to raise jealousies and alienate the affections of his Majesty's subjects in America from his government here; and upon the fatal tendency of such a separation between them, if it could be effected; as that must necessarily produce dissensions among yourselves and wars between the several provinces, for want of a common arbiter, and at last end in a state of subjection to some foreign power, who would draw the bonds of submission much tighter than they ever were before. All that he said carried conviction to his hearers, from the arguments he used and the nature of things themselves. I hope that those reasonings will never come to be verified by experiment.—[What countrymen are we?]

The above is a genuine Letter, wrote by a Gentleman who never was in America. [A Gentleman, doubtless.]

NEW-HAVEN, June 13.
Last Saturday Evening a House in Goshen was struck by Lightning and consumed. Two Men were killed in the House by the same Flath, one of which was Brother to Capt. Rice who lately fail'd from hence for Boston.

NEW-YORK, June 18.
To the PRINTER,
SIR,
HAVING lately perus'd a Latin composition, entitled Familiar Epistles, by John Beveridge, A. M. professor of languages in the college of Philadelphia. I can't help admiring the elegance of the Latin, as well as the propriety of sentiment thro' the whole;—one would imagine that the Roman language was once more to revive, and a second Horace to bless the American world.—I have attempted the translation of one epistle hitherto not published, and have observed Horace's rule.
—Nec verbum verbo reddere curabis fidus interpretes.
—If you will give it a place in your paper, it will much oblige
J. R. M. D.

[NUMB. 43.]
To the most excellent THOMAS PENN, Proprietor of Pennsylvania, or (as the Latin calls it) Sovereign.

ALTHO' your mind's employ'd with cares of state,
Such as the muses to the bard impart, Blest'd with each strain to captivate the heart.
A while let care subside, propitious hear A bard oppress'd by ev'ry anxious fear;
Ten times the sun it's ample course has run, Since hostile wars made me my country shun;
My house is ransack'd, and my wishes vain;
My limbs are shatter'd, and my offspring slain!
I'm even banish'd from my native soil,
And all distresses aggravate my toil.
Now having undergone this world of care,
The fate of Sisyphus I daily share, Where restless waves urge on the Delaware;
It's there thy fire a city rais'd in state,
And there thy bard incessant toils await;
Not ev'n Danaus' offspring suffer'd more Than I, dejected, tofs'd from shore to shore:
And now I tremble on the verge of years,
And nothing to support my hoary hairs:
Nor have I, where, to rest my feeble frame, Comfort deny'd, and who can live on fame!
—As thou hast lands in such exhaustless store;
As equal all the sands around thy shore, You'd bless the poet, would you condescend
To lend assistance to the muses' friend:
Indulge him with a cot, to ward the rage
Of blustering Boreas, in his helpless age:
He's not ungrateful tho' not blest'd with wealth,
And what seems small to you, will yield him health.
To grant his poor request, if you don't choose,
Cut off his hope, and leave him to the muse.
Nor think what in your life you give your friend,
Will fruitless perish, and not serve it's end,
The muse will spread your fame to future days, Whilst Phoebus shines or men have tongues to praise.
This will be worth the gold that Tagus yields,
Or Mexico with all its argent fields.
What does avail if to your heirs you leave Cezus' wealth?—the all devouring grave
Will swallow up your name (quite lost) unknown, Tho' you were rais'd to the supremest throne.
What would Aeneas and great Ajax be,
And all the heroes of antiquity,
Had not Mæonides brought those to light,
And snatch'd them from the dreary realms of night?
He—(Phœbus and the nine inspiring) sings
The deathless fame of heroes and of kings:—
Mæneas, of a noble generous mind,
Who to the muses' friend was always kind,
His fame had lost in those degenerate days,— Had it not been for Maro's matchless lays,
And Flaccus,—more than any bard can praise.
Fratricides by art made marble live,
And Myron strength to brazen statues gave;
Yet thunder, gaping earth, and host le rage,
May bury 'ho'se in all consuming age;
But rage of arms and dreadful thunder's blaze, Consuming fire and all the raging seas;
And envy tofs'd with ever-knawing fangs,
And time still hovering on eagle's wings,
Can never injure Phœbus' awful shrine
The muse shall live, in spite of these, divine!

By the Arrival of a Number of Ships from Old France, at Martinico, with about 15,000 Barrels of Flour, &c. an Ordinance was published, forbidding the Importation into that Island of any English Flour or Meal after the 15th of June, and Bread after the first of July; that the Inhabitants were so alarmed at the Prohibition, that they had purchased large Quantities at a very high Rate from most of the Islanders, and the Governor was obliged, to quiet the Populace, to declare to them, in Case of Necessity, they should be supplied out of the King's Stores, which had the desired Effect.
We learn from Dominica, that they are busy building many Houses there, and erected a Bridge over the River, by Subscription; that the Surveyors agree that Island is larger than Martinico, and that there is much more of the Land capable of Cultivation than was at first expected; that they had a Prospect of great Crops of Coffee next Year; that there was great Plenty of Sugar at Market; that many Vessels had lately failed from thence with their Loads; and that three Guineymen arrived there a few Months since, and sold their Slaves very well.
Captain Montgomery, in 6 Weeks from Bearn, on the 5th of May, fell in with Captain Allen, of the Ship Neptune, from Air, in Scotland, bound for Cafco-Bay, and kept Company with him till the 14th, when they parted in Lat. 45, Long. 30, all well on board: And in Lat. 39. 2, Long 68, Captain Montgomery also spoke with a Ship from Philadelphia, bound for Lisbon; and on the 10th, with a Sloop from New-London, bound for Antigua.

On Monday the first Instant, the Society for promoting Arts, &c. held a stated Meeting, when the Premium of £. 20, for raising the greatest Quantity of Flax off a Piece of Land not exceeding 4 Acres, was adjudged to Johannis Van Zant, of New-York County, who raised 2045 lb. on 3 Acres 3 Rods, and 34 Perches: The second Premium of £. 15, was adjudged to Thomas Hunt, of Westchester-County, who raised 1558 lb. of Flax, off a Piece of Land not exceeding four Acres: Said Claimants are desired to call on the Treasurer, who is directed to pay the above Sums. The Petition of James Voty, Stocking-Weaver, was granted; also Mrs. Paterson's, who shewed a very fine Piece of Linen of her own Spinning. Two Certificates of Vineyards in this Province, were received; both of which exceed the Quantity of Vines stipulated by the London Society, for obtaining the Premiums they offered.

Wednesday 10th died here of a Complication of Disorders, Mr. Sidney Breesé, many Years a Merchant in this Place.

On Tuesday 9th died here also, John Kelly, Esq; for many Years a Lawyer in this City. He laboured under a lingering Disease for 10 Months past, which he bore with great Patience: By his Frugality and Industry, he acquired a comfortable Independency, without making a Market of the Miseries of his Fellow Creatures. He liv'd an honest Man, and died a good Christian.

We hear by Capt. Pell, from Cork, that 9 Sail of large Transports were just arrived there from England, having on board Part of the 10th, 16th, 18th, and 26th Regiments, the whole of which were on their Passage to that Place, from whence they were expected to sail again about the 12th Ult. for New-York.—On the Passage Captain Pell, spoke a Snow Capt. Montgomery, 9 Days out from Philadelphia, bound for Malega, all well.

On Sunday last fail'd the Lord Hyde-Packet, Captain Goddard, with the Mail for Falmouth.

On the 3d Instant, about 12 Leagues N. Crooked-Island, Capt. Jauncey, spoke the Augustus Cæsar Capt. Duffel, bound for London, all well.

The Western Post arrived so late, that we are obliged to defer the Speech of his Excellency the Governor of New-Jersey, to the General Assembly, and the Secretary of State's Letter to him.]

For The St. JAMES'S CHRONICLE.
Late melancholy Event has recalled to my Mind some remarkable Verses in a Poem called Death, written in the Year 1759, by the late Charles Emily, Esq; Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, and Tutor to the late Marquis of Tavistock; which Verses I desire you will insert, as I doubt not but most of your Readers will join with me in admiring, on this Occasion, the mysterious Ways of Providence, and at the same Time in lamenting that the Poet should, alas! be too true a Prophet, and that pass but a few, very few Years, the Tutor and his Pupil, the Author and his Subject, young and amiable, and deserving as they were, should both, as it is here expressed, be knelled to the Tomb. The Marquis was then with his Father in Ireland. Mr. Emily died in the Year 1762, Major of the Surrey Militia.

GRANTICOLA.

FAST to the driving Winds the marshall'd Clouds Sweep discontinuous o'er th'etherial Plain; Another still upon another crowds,
All hasting downwards to their native Main.
Thus passes on, through vary'd Life's Career, Man's fleeting Age; the Seasons, as they fly, Snatch from us in their Course, Year after Year, Some sweet Connection, some endearing Tie.
The Parent, ever honour'd, ever dear, Claims from the filial Breast the pious Sigh;
A Brother's Un demands the kindred Tear,
And gentle Sorrows gush from Friendship's Eye.
To-day we frolic in the jocund Bloom
Of rosy Youth;—the Morrow knells us to the Tomb.
Who knows how soon, in this sepulchral Spot, Shall Heaven to me the drear Abode assign!
How soon the past irrevocable Lot Of these, that rest beneath me, shall be mine!
Haply, when Zephyr, to thy native Bourn, Shall waft thee o'er the storm'd Hibernian Wave, Thy gentle Breast, my Tavistock, shall mourn
To find me sleeping in the fensel'd Grave:
No more the social Leisure to divide
In the sweet Intercourse of Soul and Soul, Blithe, or of graver Brow; no more to chide
The lingering Years impatient, as they roll, Till all thy cultur'd Virtues shall display, Full-blossom'd, their bright Honours to the gazing Day.
Ah! dearest Youth! these Vows perhaps unheard,
The rude Wind scatters o'er the billowy Main;
These Prayers, at Friendship's holy Shrine prefer'd, May rise to grasp their Father's Knees in vain.
Soon, soon may nod the sad funeral Plume,
With solemn Horror, o'er thy timelefs Hearse;
And I survive to grave upon thy Tomb,
The faithful Tribute of memorial Verse.
That leave to Heaven's Decision:—Be it thine, Higher than yet a Parent's Wishes flew,
To soar in bright Pre-eminence, and shine With self-earn'd Honours, eager to pursue Where Glory, with her clear, unfurl'd Rays,
The well-born Spirit lights to Deeds of noblest Praise.

Mr. HOLT,
Please to give the following a Place in your next Thursday's Paper.

Bergen Commons, New-Jersey.
THESE Lands have been in Dispute a great many Years, and much Money has been expended by the Parties.—The Legislature of this Province, at last, appointed seven Gentlemen as Commissioners, finally to determine the Property of the Commons; six of them acted, and their general Plan was, to allow a proportionate Share of Commons to such as were in Possession of the patented Lands, unless the Conveyances mentioned a Reservation.—I am informed they allowed a Partition of Commons to some in Bergen, who could produce no other Title for their patented Lots, than a Record in the Town Book of such Lots being sold at Vendue, without any mention of Commons:—And this Conduct seems to be agreeable to the Spirit of the Charter.—They found Sekakus within the Limits of the Charter, and appointed a Part of the Commons to Sekakus.—Mr. Bayard now claiming the Commons of Sekakus; some Pains were taken to prove to the Commissioners the Impropriety of this Claim; and five of Six voted against his Claim,—the other (tho' he made use of Arguments against it) did not give his Voice.—There was no Occasion for it, as a Majority determined the Matter.

Mr. Bayard still continues his Claim, ridiculous as it is,—but I cannot see any Propriety in his endeavouring to obstruct the finally Settling the other Claim.—Therefore hope the Legislature will, for the Ease and Benefit of the true Owners, make some Provision at their next Session, for the fixing of Property,—and not Regard the Claim of him who ought to have been convinced of the Impropriety of it long ago.—But even supposing (tho' far from granting) his Claim to be founded on the Appearance of Justice, can any reasonable Man believe, that if Mr. Bayard supposed himself in the Right he would want the Decision put off to some future Day?

To convince one of the Unjustness of his Claim to a Thing, is not always sufficient to cause him to give it up.
The bare Power of keeping People out of the Possession of their Property has sometimes been a sufficient Reason for the doing it.
JOS. SACKETT, jun.

THE Widow of the Rev. (74 77)

WHEREAS the Estate of Captain Abraham Duane, late of his Majesty's Navy, having devolv'd on the Subscriber:—This is to give Notice to such Persons as are indebted to the said Estate, by Bond, or Note, that they pay the Principal and Interest of the same without delay, or they may be assured of being sued without respect of Persons; the Subscriber intending to leave America in a short Time.—He has several valuable Farms which he will lease on reasonable Terms, situated nigh Schenectady, contiguous to a Tract of Land, formerly called Corry's-Bush, but now known by the Name of Duaneburgh, they may be either had in Farms of One or Two Hundred Acres each Farm, as may be most convenient to the Settle; they are situated in the Neighbourhood, and are a Part of the Tract of Land, now greatly improved by Mr. James Duane, and of course much enhanced in Value: As also a few good Farms near Fort Edward.—Any Person inclining to purchase, or settle said Lands, may know the Conditions by applying to CORNELIUS DUANE, Executor and Administrator to said Estate.

THE drawing of the St. Peter's, &c. Church Lottery, began at the Church School-House, on Wednesday the 27th day ult. where it will continue drawing from day to day (Sundays excepted) until the same be finished. The Public is sufficiently acquainted how advantageous this Lottery is to the adventurers, by the numberless schemes which have been published, it will suffice to observe, that there are not two blanks to a prize, notwithstanding the many high prizes contained in it. The managers have thought it prudent to begin the drawing as slow as possible, in order that those who are not provided with tickets, may apply in time to them, or to Messrs. Hall and Bradford, or the Printer of the Chronicle before they are all disposed of, as there is a great demand for them.

New-Windfor, May 24th, 1767.
To be sold at public Vendue, the First Day of July next, on the Premises:

ONE Hundred Acres of Land, lying on the West-Side of Hudson's River, near New-Windfor, in Ulster-County; which Land is divided into six Lots, viz. Lot No. 1, containing about 27 Acres, on which stands a fine new Grist-Mill, on the noted good Stream commonly known by the Name of Quasaick, (alias) Chambers's-Creek: This Mill is supposed to be as well calculated for the Business of the New-York Market, as any in the Province, having the great Advantage of a fine extensive Wheat Country, lying back of it, and being situated so that the Flour can be transported from the Door in a Scoop, and loaded on board of a Sloop, (which can come within a very small Distance of the Mill:) Therefore no Expence will accrue on Account of Land-Carriage; consequently the Purchaser can advance a higher Price for Wheat, than possibly can be given at Mills whose Situation lies back from the River: The good Effect of which will be, that he can command as much of that Commodity as he may think proper. The House is large and commodious, being 42 Feet in Length, and 28 in Breadth, two Stories and a Half high, one Pair of Stones fix'd, and in good Order, with proper Conveniency to fix another Pair. Lots No. 2 and 3, each containing about 13 Acres, Lot No. 4, contains about 18, Lot No. 5, contains about 14, and Lot No. 6, contains about 9 Acres.—The Whole is good Swamp and Up-Land, with fine young thriving Timber on it, and will be sold together, or in separate Parcels, as above mentioned, as may best suit the Purchasers.—The Conditions will be made known at the Time of Sale: An indisputable Title will be given by the Subscriber, living near the Premises.

SUPPLEMENT to the NEW-YORK JOURNAL, OR GENERAL ADVERTISER.—NUMB. 1276.

THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1767.

From the London Chronicle, April 9, 1767.
To the PRINTER:

SIR,
As the bare letter of a Governor of one of our provinces, accusing his people of rebellious intentions, is by many here thought sufficient ground for inflicting penalties on such province, without further evidence, and without knowing what it may have to say in its justification: I with you would give the Public the following Extract of a Letter, in which, Accusations of the Colonies from Officers of Government residing there, are set in a light very different from that they have usually been considered in.—It was written here at the time of our last year's disputes, by one who had lived long in America, knew the people and their affairs extremely well—and was equally well acquainted with the temper and practices of government officers. Speaking of the opinion entertained in Britain of the Americans, he says,

"Much has been said of a virtual representation, which the colonies are supposed to have here. Of that I understand nothing. But I know what kind of actual representation, or rather misrepresentation, is continually made of them, by those from whom ministers chiefly have their information. Governors and other officers of the crown, even the little officers of the revenue sent from hence, have at all times some account to give of their own loyal and faithful conduct, with which they mix some contrary character of the people that tends to place that conduct in a more advantageous light. Every good thing done there in the Assemblies, for promoting his Majesty's service, was obtained by the Governor's influence: He proposed, he urged strongly, he managed parties;—there was a great opposition;— the Assembly were refractory and disaffected;— but his zeal and dexterity overcame all difficulties.
And if through his own imprudence, or real want of capacity, any thing goes wrong, he is never in fault; the Assembly and the people are to bear all the blame;—they are factious, they are turbulent, disloyal, impatient of government, disrespectful to his Majesty's Representative.— Then the Custom-house Officer represents the people as all inclined to smuggling. Dutch and French goods (by his account) swarm in the country; nothing else would be used if it were not for his extreme vigilance; which, indeed, as it takes up all his time, he hopes will be considered in the allowance of a larger salary.—Even the Missionary Clergy, to whom all credit is due, cannot forbear acquainting the Bishops, and their other superiours here, from whom they receive their stipends, that they are indeed very diligent in their respective missions: but that they meet with great difficulties from the adverse disposition of the people:—Quakers oppose them in one place, Presbyterians in another:—this country swarms with thwarting heretics; tother with ma-lvolent sectaries:—Infidelity gains ground here, Popery is countenanced there. Their unwearied endeavours, which are never wanting, scarce suffice to prevent the Colonists being overwhelmed with vice, irreligion, ignorance and error! *
Then the military officer who has served in the colonies, represents them as abounding in wealth; the profuse tables they used to spread for him in their hospitable entertainments convinced him of it; for these he saw daily when he dined from house to house, and therefore he had reason to imagine that was their common way of living; (though in truth that was extremely different, and much more suitable to their circumstances.) But, opulent as he supposes them, they must in [*] Tho' I will not pretend to exculpate every Missionary from every Part of this Charge, which however is highly aggravated: (as I believe none of them have inculcated any Doctrines inconsistent with English Liberty, tho' they opposed Riots and Tumults) yet this Representation of them as a Body, is a vile Calumny.—For however there may be here and there a professed Churchman, who for selfish Views will implicitly conform to the Dictates of a corrupt Ministry, yet the Principles of the Church of England, are as far from countenancing such a Conduct, as those of any Church upon Earth; nor are there any People in England or America, more firmly attached to the English Constitution, or more relolutely determined to support and defend it, and the just Rights and Liberties, every Rank and Order of Men in the Nation are thereby entitled to, than the sincere Members of the Church of England.]

his opinion, be the meanest of mortals to grudge the payment of a trifling tax, especially, as it is to maintain soldiers. Thus REPRESENTED, how can it be otherwise, but that the governing people in Britain, should conceive the most unfavourable idea of Americans, as unworthy the name of Englishmen, and fit only to be snubbed, curbed, shackled and plundered."

This seems a very natural, and I believe is a very true account of the matter.

I am, Sir, yours, &c.

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.
By Captain May, from Port Louis, we learn, that about the beginning of March last, one of his Majesty's Frigates touching at the Isle of Ash, to get Wood, a French Guarda Costa Snow, of 16 Guns, on seeing her, sent her Boat on board to know her Business, which the Captain of the Frigate detained all Night, and dismissed her the next Morning; after which the Snow came up and poured in her a Broadside, which was smartly returned by the Frigate, till the Frenchman thought proper to tow his Vessel off (there being no Wind) having her Masts shot through, all her upper Works carried away even with the Deck, fore and aft, had a great Number of Men killed, and was towed into Port Louis a mere Wreck; that after being refitted, she went out again, and returned with two Sloops belonging to Jamaica, which she met with carrying on an illicit Trade. And that about the First of May, the Captain of a French Guineyman, lying there, getting Intelligence of a N. England Schooner being in a little Bay to Leeward, manned his Boats, went down and took her, and brought her into Port Louis, where the Captain and Crew were immediately confined in Gaol, and the Vessel and Cargo condemned.—A Sloop of and for New-York, failed from Port Louis the 11th of last Month.

THIS is to inform the PUBLIC,

That I the Subscriber hereof, William Bentley, of Beekman's Precinct, in Dutchess-County, was sent for to the House of one Thomas Wallworth, of said Place, the last of February, or the first of March, 1763; where meeting one Timothy Hollester, of Connecticut, who offered to dispose of several Rights of Land, in which was generally called the Susquehannah Purchase:—And I questioning his Right or Authority of the said Rights, and told him I had rather have a Right in the Delaware Purchase; but questioned, whether he the said-Hollester, had any Authority to dispose of any there: Whereupon the said Thomas Wallworth, came into the Room, and certified that the said Hollester, had good Right to dispose of such Rights, and that said Wallworth, had been at the laying out of a Township on the said Rights then offered for Sale; and that there was no dispute of the Delaware; upon which Consideration I agreed to have a Right, and gave my Note of £. 13-0-0 for the Payment thereof: And whereas I find the whole to be a piece of Deceit and Villany, and can have no Certainty for the said Rights.—For which Reason I don't intend to pay the aforesaid £. 13-0-0, or any Part thereof, and also am well informed, that the aforesaid Note was lodged in the Hands of the said Thomas Wallworth, and as he has offered the same for Payment: Therefore I do hereby notify the Public, not to trade for, nor accept the said Note as Payment, as I shall utterly refuse the Payment thereof.
WILLIAM BENTLEY.

The above being done in the Presence of John Spencer, and Jedediah Jenkins.

Dutchess-County. THEN the within named John Spencer, and Jedediah Jenkins, personally appeared before me William Humfrey, Esq; one of his Majesty's Justices of the Peace for said County; and doth acknowledge that they were personally present, when the above-mentioned Contract was made, and saw the said Note given, and that they heard the within named Thomas Wallworth, affirm that there was no dispute about the Title of the Rights of the Lots laid out in that Right, called Delaware first Purchase.
Acknowledged before me, the Date above-said,
